Missio Guide launches to applause in Budapest

The Missio Guide - <http://missiogui.de> - project that has been underway for the last year was launched on 1 August 2013 to hundreds of ministers in Budapest. They had gathered as a part of Christian Associates annual Summit leadership conference. On the first afternoon of the conference they were introduced to the guide that they had helped build.

It is designed to do two things: encourage individuals to live into intentional mission while helping them focus on making disciples of Jesus. The site consists of an ever expanding repository of spiritual practices with expressions of how those practices can be realized in community. In addition to the practices, communities can submitting stories of how God was present in their midst during their times of initial mission around a particular expression.
