Integrated Training with Membership Software

One of the biggest challenges to overcome with any new software is training. As of today that is easier than ever with Fresh Vine.

"We've tried many approaches to training over the years," said Paul Prins - President and Founder of Fresh Vine. "By inserting the training materials directly into the software we let people learn as they go."

One of the main goals for 2014 is to improve your training, learning, and on-boarding experience within Fresh Vine. They're jump starting this process by building an integrated training system. It allows them to place small bright orange buttons throughout the software. Clicking on any of these buttons will bring you into an immersive learning/training experience.
